PYRAMIDS OF THE WORLD

WHO WILL RISE TO THE TOP OF THE PYRAMID?

CHICHEN
ITZA

Chichen Itza is one of the New 7 Wonders of the World. Archaeologists are still determining when, exactly, the building of Chichen Itza began, though historical records suggest that the city was in its early phases of development around 600-750 A.D. The growth and development of Chichen Itza span several centuries. Most estimates put the city at well over 1,500 years old. Historical records show that Chichen Itza was a major focal point in the Northern Maya Lowlands and a vibrant city was populated by more than ten thousand people - a very large community for the time.

THE NUBIAN PYRAMIDS

There are hundreds of pyramidal tombs in the region of central Sudan once known as Nubia, built mostly out of reddish sandstone. About 40 of them are located in Meroe, a major city in the Kushite kingdom from about 300 B.C. to 300 A.D. The Nubian pyramids are smaller than the Egyptian pyramids, and more narrowly shaped. Although they have suffered from plunder and decay over the years---an Italian explorer smashed the tops off many of them in the 19th century, apparently seeking treasure---they remain a remarkable sight.

PYRAMIDS OF THE WORLD

WHO WILL RISE TO THE TOP OF THE PYRAMID?

MYAN PYRAMIDS OF TIKAL

Tikal was an important urban and ceremonial center for the Maya from about 300 to 900 A.D., and they built many monuments there, including five pyramidal temples. The tallest---Pyramid IV, topped by the Temple of the Two-Headed Serpent---is 213 feet high. After the Maya abandoned the site, these pyramids lay largely forgotten in the rainforest for nearly 800 years. European explorers re-discovered them with great excitement in the 1850s, leading to several major archaeological expeditions and digs. The area is now a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

MEET THE MAPLE RIDGE 2024 ADJUDICATORS

KAREN RITCHIE

Karen is a Canadian-born performer from Saskatchewan who spent her early years training technically in dance. Her dedicated studies in tap, jazz, ballet, pointe and acro led her to acquire a worldly dance career - from working as a dancer, tumbler and aerialist on cruise ships in the Caribbean and Alaska to performing multiple contracts at Tokyo Disney theme parks in Japan.

In 2005, Karen became a Radio City Rockette and has been thrilled to perform across the United States and Canada in the Christmas Spectacular every season since. She performed in both the New York Spring Spectacular and the New York Spectacular choreographed by Mia Michaels. Karen has appeared on NBC's the Today Show, the Tonight Show starring Jimmy Fallon, the Rockefeller Tree Lighting, the Tony Awards, the MTV VMA's, Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, America's Got Talent, the NBA All-Star Game and the Life Ball in Vienna, Austria. Through these performances, Karen has had the opportunity to perform alongside Derek Hough, Jenna Ortega, Pitbull, Flo-Rida and Christina Aguilera. She can also be seen in the Hallmark movie "A Holiday Spectacular", the Kasey Musgraves Christmas Show on Amazon Prime, Fantastic Four: Rise of the Silver Surfer and a number of television commercials.

Karen is on staff with Acrobatic Arts as a Course Conductor and Examiner and is also certified in Progressing Ballet Technique. She has taught master classes and workshops at Radio City Music Hall and Broadway Dance Center, as well as throughout the United States and Canada.

CHRIS CLARKE

Chris Clarke has over 20 years experience as a choreographer, artistic director, dancer, and teacher. Chris is the founder of a successful dance company called Nexx Level Dance and Theatre Entertainment, that continues to be the doorway for a large percentage of dancers to walk into Toronto's dance industry and become stage ready for the world of dance. He's produced, choreographed, and artistic directed 30+ full length dance productions over the past 15 years.

Chris is one of Toronto's dance industry experts. With a focus on hip-hop and jazz funk, he specializes in performance training, technique building, and combines theatrics with execution. Chris has been a competitive dance teacher for many years, on staff at several Ontario dance studios and earning awards for his choreography at many competitions.

As a dancer, Chris worked with artists such as Rihanna, Jully Black, Divine Brown, and Ron Sexsmith. He was also the choreographer for CTV's The Social, choreographing a live dance performance for host, Melissa Grelo, and for W Network's Style by Jury. Chris also works in artist development and management, currently managing two recording artists. He is also a talented song writer and musical engineer, writing, vocal directing, and engineering for many artists in the GTA. His latest endeavour has been opening his own music and dance studio called Clarke Studios (@clarkestudiosinc). This creative arts lounge has brought his love for dance and music together, where he is found recording and engineering music sessions for many Toronto artists, teaching dance classes and privates, and running rehearsals for various projects.

ORIELLE MARCUS

Orielle Marcus is a professional dancer, choreographer and educator. Originally from Winnipeg, she spent ten years dancing and teaching professionally in Toronto. She is now the proud owner and artistic director of a brand new dance studio in Winnipeg, The Dance Method, which bridges the gap between industry professionalism and competitive dance. Orielle has worked with some of the biggest musical artists, most recently Fifth Harmony at Canada's largest award show the MMVA'S. She has performed professionally for many years in Toronto, dancing for artists, live shows, music videos and being the Assistant to the biggest heels company in Toronto, Hot In Heels Canada. Over the years, Orielle has gained a tremendous amount of knowledge and experience that she is so excited to bring back to her hometown.

Not only does she exude the talent you seek in a performer but she is also known for her professionalism, hard work and dedication to her craft.

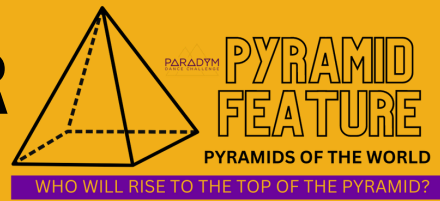

Orielle has now shifted from her years of performing professionally into sharing her knowledge and tools of what it's like to work and enter into the dance industry, adjudicating competitions throughout Canada and to continue to provide growth to the upcoming generations. She has gained love and respect from her peers and students over the years by her positive attitude and showing young dancers what they are really capable of.

Although dancing in heels is her specialty, she is fully trained in all styles where she puts her focus on commercial heels, lyrical, jazz technique, jazz-funk and contemporary.

Orielle is extremely passionate about her craft and is so excited to share her knowledge with the next generation. She is driven to create change and new methods of teaching into the city and can't wait for what's to come.

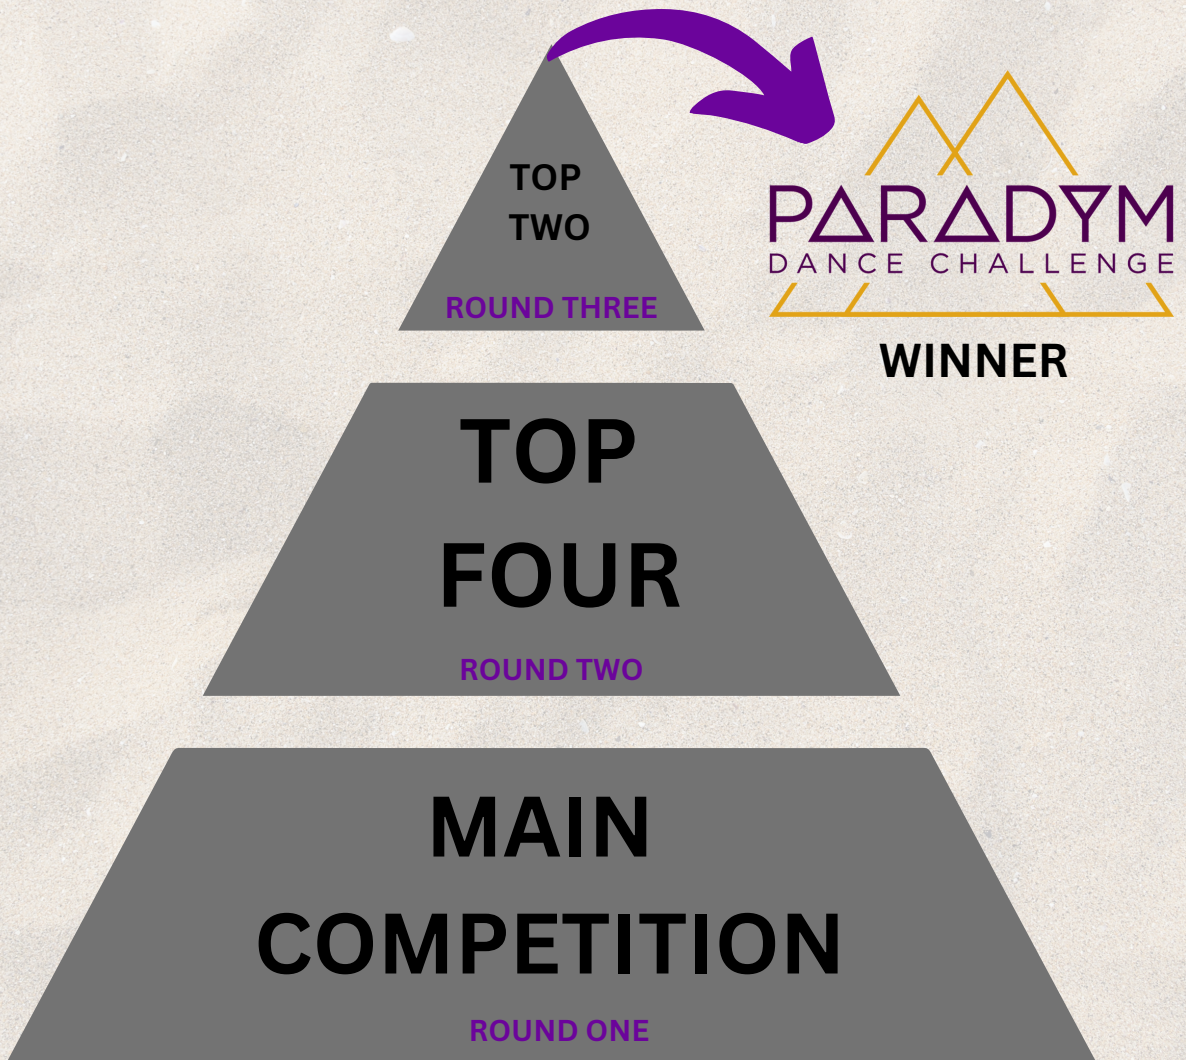

ZIGGURAT OF UR

The word ziggurat (from a Babylonian word for “tall or lofty”) is used to describe tiered temples like this one in Mesopotamia, but the design of successively receding layers could also be called a step pyramid. This ziggurat, built for the Sumerian king Ur-Nammu in the mid-21st century B.C., once had three stories of terraced brick connected by staircases. It eroded over time and was restored by the Babylonian king Nebuchadnezzar II in the 6th century B.C., then again by archaeologists in the 20th century. Tallil Airbase is now located nearby.

GIZA EGYPT: PYAMID OF KHAFRE

The middle pyramid of the famous Giza trio was built circa 2520 B.C. for Pharaoh Khafre. At 471 feet, Khafre's tomb wasn't quite as tall as the Great Pyramid of his father, Pharaoh Khufu---but he cleverly made it appear taller by choosing a nearby spot with higher elevation. The elaborate temple complex east of the pyramid includes a monolithic limestone statue with the body of a seated lion, the face of a human (although the nose has fallen off), and the headdress of a pharaoh. This mysterious figure is known as The Sphinx.
